Baker Creative principal influences up-and-coming professionals

Baker Creative principal Michele Cuthbert influenced the future design talent by participating in AIGA Cincinnati's Annual Senior Portfolio Day 2010.

Cuthbert along with many industry professionals provided valuable feedback for graduating seniors on portfolio content in the areas of print design, digital design, illustration and photography.

The Art Academy of Cincinnati, Bowling Green University and the University of Dayton were among the Ohio colleges participating in the event.

"The art departments from the participating schools had some wonderful talent coming through and I was impressed by their professionalism," Cuthbert said.
